Mentions légales

In accordance with the provisions of Article 6 III-1 of Law No. 2004-575 of 21 June 2004 on confidence in the digital economy, the Life Adsorb site is published by the City of Paris.

Hosting and technical maintenance are provided by Stratis (http://www.stratis.fr/).

Applicable law and jurisdiction

These General Terms and Conditions of Use are governed by French law and the user, by accepting them, irrevocably grants exclusive jurisdiction to the French courts.

Responsability

Users connect to the site at their own risk. The Collectivité may not be held liable for any damage resulting from any kind of malfunction, suspension or cessation of the site, or for any material or immaterial damage resulting in any way from connection to the Site.

Intellectual property rights

The content of the Site is the exclusive property of the City of Paris. By virtue of article L.122-4 of the French Intellectual Property Code, these elements are protected by copyright, and any reproduction is in principle subject to the agreement of the City of Paris.
In accordance with public intellectual property law, and in particular article L122-5 of the Intellectual Property Code, 'official documents' may be freely re-used:

- Statements, speeches, press kits and press releases;

However, it is good practice to clearly mention the source when using these documents in whole or in part. Reproduction of these documents in whole or in part is therefore authorised, provided, of course, that the name of the author and the source are mentioned.
Non-commercial re-use is authorised on condition that the integrity of the information is respected and that its meaning, scope and application are not altered, and that its origin and date of publication are specified.
