

Replicability and Transferability Plan

This item aims to present the key elements to consider when implementing a constructed wetland with reed beds in a different context. This information is a valuable resource for stakeholders in the sector who wish to implement this type of infrastructure.