The Ready to Copy Project

The project nears completion, under the watchful eye of CINEA

Published on 16 May 2025

As the project drew to a close, CINEA made its final visit before handing over the final reports. The aim: to validate the final elements and ensure that everything is ready for closing.

The morning was devoted to a complete tour of the installations: the filters, of course, but also the entire automation system, the backbone of the system.

In the afternoon, it was time to take stock: each task, each deliverable was reviewed, testifying to the overall progress of the project and the efforts made by the partners
